ARE YOU DEAF? ANY HEAD NOISES?
ALL CASES OF DEAFNESS OR HARD HEARING ARE NOW CURABLE by our new invention. Only those born deaf are incurable. HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.
F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:
Baltimore, Md., March 30, 1901.
Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at you—discretion.
About five years ago my right ear began to ring, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely.
I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.
I then saw your advertisement accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain, Very truly yours,
F. A. WERMAN, 729 S. Broadway, Baltimore, Md.
Our treatment does not interfere with your usual occupation. Examination and advice free. YOU CAN CURE YOURSELF AT HOME at a nominal cost. INTERNATIONAL AURAL CLINIC, 595 LA SALLE AVE., CHICAGO, ILL.

The Laggard Lover
A pyramid of bones, and among them one of such manifest destiny that it attracted the eye as if by magic. A wicked looking bone, with bony legs and two ill-shaped feet, an instrument of fate endowed with strange power in love affairs, half sister to the horseshoe, that weird bit of social demonology, a chicken's wishbone.
The fact is always emphasized when the modern black art is practiced that the bone must belong to a chicken, but as no other fowl—not excepting the bird of America, the turkey—possesses such an appendix, the distinction seems unnecessary.
The bone on the pyramid was rescued from destruction by the white fingers of a girl, who dressed it and hung it over the outside door. When it had been lodged there an hour a man came in. He was tall, and as he came under the "conjure" he brushed it with his head and dislodged it.
"Well, you're it," laughed the girl, as he stooped and picked it from the floor. "That is the first time you ever came under the wishbone."
"Will you break it with me, Nell? You know I believe it is an omen. We will both wish, and the one that gets the wish piece must tell the other what wish was made."
"O, let's tell beforehand. Health and prosperity is all I wish for. Am I not moderate?"
"I wish, said the man, "that we are married at Christmas, and live happily ever."
"That sounds like the ending of a dime novel love story. See that we are not even engaged, it would take stronger force than that of a wishbone to marry us by Christmas."
"Nell, will you marry me?"
She had waited seven years for this, and now that it had come it was most welcome, and it angered her that a miserable chicken bone could supply an opportunity for this laggard in love. A panorama of war flashed across her horizon, the glint of arms, the flutter of flags, a soldier promoted for bravery, then, forgetfulness and silence. She looked at the serious, stolid face of the man as he stood holding the arbiter of human destinies between thumb and forefinger, and decided:
"Yes, David, but please do not give your chicken bone too much credit—you may not get your wish after all."
It went apart with a snap, and David held the long piece, and his satisfaction over it was immense.
"Well, it worked, didn't it? We will keep the pieces, and they will bring us good luck. I have always had the greatest faith in wishbone omens."
Yet it was necessary that it should fall and strike you before you accepted its dictum," suggested Nell.
A superstitious man is far more rabid in his belief than one of the opposite sex, just as a man in love is very much more engrossed by the tender passion. David Wilson wrapped the bone of fate in a tissue paper covering and laid it away carefully among his cherished possessions. Nell dropped hers into her glove box, wished the chicken that owned it had never been born, rated herself for a fool, and sat down to have a good cry.
"Engaged to David Wilson! Why, I might as well be engaged to father. And all I'm doing it for is to show Ransom Hale that I am not breaking my heart for him, even if he is wearing fine new shoulder straps. The mean thing never to write a word! Oh, David, you superstitious, good, old, stupid, how will I get you off my hands? Seven years of acquaintanceship ought to count for something. Oh, chicken bone, engine of destiny, how I hate you!"
And the next day, when Capt. Hale called on Nell and asked her to marry him, she consigned all chicken bone wishes to perdition, while she made a clean breast of her affair with David. And what the captain meant by holding her in his arms while he heard her story can easily be guessed. Then they went into session as a committee of ways and means to circumvent the plans of destiny set in motion by that wishbone.

Capt. Hale was in favor of an elopement, leaving David out of the race, but Nell was much too conservative for that. She preferred strategy, and a brilliant coup de grace.
A week later David presented himself in a state of abject depression. "I've lost my luck," he said in crumpled tones.
"Lost on a business deal," suggested Nell, warily.
"No. Lost my wishbone. I put it away carefully and now it can not be found high or low. It has disappeared as if by magic."
"And you are sure no one was in your room?"
"No one but my washerwoman, and I don't know what she wanted there. But she would have no object in stealing a wishbone."
"No, and there would be no magic in a wishbone that would let itself be stolen. Oh, David, that is a bad omen. We must call our engagement off until you find it. Bad luck will follow if we persist in disobeying the omen. We are up against it now."
"I know it, I feel it in my bones," said poor, victimized David, mournfully.
"Nell, dear, do you think it possible that the cat—ate—it?"
"No!" Nell was shaking with laughter, which by a desperate effort she changed into nervous agitation. "I feel that it may mean a warning, and we must obey, we cannot throw ourselves against an oracle. You see it was not intended that we should marry."
The envoy of fate was never found, as the wicked girl knew right well it never would be, for by her own scheme it was abstracted. So cleverly did she play upon the superstitious nature of David that he not only forgave her for marrying Capt. Hale, but was himself at the wedding as best man. But every now and then he goes on a still hunt for that lost wishbone.

An Old Ex-Representative.
Probably the oldest living member of the Kentucky legislature is W. H. Points, of Grant county. He was born in November, 1810, and has passed his ninety-first birthday. He is the father of 10 children, all from one mother. He served in the Kentucky legislature as a representative from 1878 until 1882, and made a remarkable campaign for his first election. Whisky and money alike, it was said at the time, figured prominently in the campaign. Points won by a narrow margin.

Of Benefit to You.
D. S. Mitchell, Falford, Md.: "During a long illness I was troubled with bed sores, was advised to try DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve and did so with wonderful results. I was perfectly cured. It is the best salve on the market." Sure cure for piles, sores, burns. Beware of counterfeits.

Get a Pair of Goats.
Time and again we have urged upon our farmers the importance of raising goats as an investment, but up to the present not one has responded to our appeal. Aside from the fact that we want all of our people to do the best they can and this mountain country to blossom like the rose, there is nothing in this to us. But it is so easy to raise goats and there is so much to be gained by raising them that we should like for our farmers to engage in the business. The wool from the goat is mohair and commands a higher price than wool, the young goat as food is superior to anything save venison, and they browse on brush for a living. Indeed they help clear up land by eating down the under brush, and thus give grass a chance so that other hooved and horned stock may be the easier raised. Let each of 10 or 12 farmers get a pair of Cashmere goats this winter and within a few years all this country will be as a garden spot. They protect themselves against the depredations of foxes and other varmints, and a few herding with sheep will protect them. There is no live stock that brings such returns with so little risk. Take our advice, some of you, and introduce at least one pair.

Saw Death Near.
"It often made my heart ache," writes L. C. Overstreet, of Elgin, Tenn., "to hear my wife cough until it seemed her weak and sore lungs would collapse. Good doctors said she was so far gone with consumption that no medicine or earthly help could save her, but a friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery and persistent use of this excellent medicine saved her life." It's absolutely guaranteed for coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma and all throat and lung diseases. 50 cents and $1.00 at J. Taylor Day, Hazel Green, and S. S. Combs & Sons, Campton, drug stores. Trial bottles free.

New Invention in Mirrors.
Mirrors that one can see through are a new invention already coming into use. They are of so-called "platinized glass," being backed with a compound of 95 per cent. silver and 5 per cent. platinum, and, optically speaking, they are exceedingly curious and interesting. Looking into a glass of this kind, one finds first-rate reflection; it is a mirror and nothing more. At the same time a person on the other side can see directly through it. For example, a glass of this sort placed in front of the prescription desk in an apothecary shop perfectly conceals the prescription clerk and his apparatus. Thus the privacy of that department is secured, while on his part the clerk is able to survey the shop and see everybody who comes in just as if the mirror were ordinary glass.

Health and Beauty.
A poor complexion is usually the result of a torpid liver or irregular action of the bowels. Unless nature's refuse is carried off it will surely cause impure blood; pimples, boils and other eruptions follow. This is nature's method of throwing off the poisons which the bowels failed to remove. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are world famous for remedying this condition. They stimulate the liver and promote regular and healthy action of the bowels but never cause griping, cramps or distress. Safe pills.

When Paring Onions.
Although the fact of the pungent odor arising from the peeling of onions affecting the eyes is well known, the way to avoid these effects is not so generally recognized: The odor which affects the delicate membrane surrounding the eyes is due to a sulphurous oil, which volatilizes rapidly when the tissue of the vegetable is broken in any. To avoid the effects of this vapor is easy if a small pared potato be stuck on the end of the knife with which the cutting is done. A chemical affinity which cannot readily be explained, but which is none the less satisfactory in its workings, attracts the fumes, and their presence is not manifest to the operator until the potato has reached a certain degree of saturation, when it can readily be replaced by another.

Onions are among the finest nerve tonics we have, and if spring onions are chopped and spread between sliced bread and butter they form a sandwich which, if eaten at supper time, will do a great deal toward insuring a good night's sleep. Plenty of onions should be found in a spring salad. The unpleasant odor imparted to the breath by eating onions can be neutralized by eating a little parsley.

Asthma
"One of my daughters had a terrible case of asthma. We tried almost everything, but without relief. We then tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and three and one-half bottles cured her."—Emma Jane Entsminger, Langsville, O.

A Distressing Death.
The suicide of Stuart Young at Louisville last week was a most distressing one. He had been city treasurer for four years, during which time, the flesh being weak, he had speculated on horse races and in bucket shops, using the city money. He was short over $50,000, but the fact was only a rumor the day of his death and Louisville papers refrained from publishing it until Young could have a chance to vindicate himself or the fact was established by expert examination. The Times, however, in its greed for news grasped the rumor and printed it with a picture of the man. A newsboy showed him the paper, he exclaimed "My God," walked a few yards and sent a bullet through his brain. At the time a messenger boy was hunting him to deliver a telegram from his brother Lawrence of Chicago, telling him that he was en route to pay every dollar. Other friends were trying to find him to assure him of their assistance when the paper and its headlines met his gaze. Not knowing of the action of his brother, and feeling that disgrace was upon him he fired the shot that ended his trouble. Within an hour everything would have been satisfactorily settled.

Saved His Life.
"I wish to say that I feel I owe my life to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure," writes H. C. Christenson of Hayfield, Minn., "For three years I was troubled with dyspepsia so that I could hold nothing on my stomach. Many times I would be unable to retain a morsel of food. Finally I was confined to my bed. Doctors said I could not live. I read one of your advertisements on Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and thought it fit my case and commenced its use. I began to improve from the first bottle. Now I am cured and recommend it to all." Digests your food. Cures all stomach troubles.

CONTENDED.

BY J. LEROY BOGGS.

A primrose bud was opening there,
On the rim of a bounding stream;
It lifts its head, it wonders where
It awakes from a peaceful dream.

'Tis beauteous verdure doth entwine
The birth of a lovely flower,
The vale is decked with columbine
To fill with mirth its gaysome bower.

It sees the towering oak tree high,
The tinted rose, the lily white,
It wonders much if nature's eye
Embraces it in the lovely right.

It looks beneath and sees the brook
With constant flow and rippling gay,
And wishes much that it might play
The brook's form that it might play.

It sees the birds come twittering by,
As they flit with tireless wing;
Oh, how it wishes it could fly,
And be a bird that it might sing.

But its little life already set;
It can not change its present bower;
It must conclude that 'twill not fret,
An be content to be a flower.

"You May Bend the Sapling, but not the tree." When disease has become chronic and deep seated it is often difficult to cure it. That is the reason why it is best to take Hood's Sarsaparilla when disease first shows itself. Hood's Pills are a favorite family cathartic.

That prince of commercial tourists, Ike Hartfield, was here over Sunday and sold some nice bills to our merchants and others in the vicinity. He sells goods and no mistake, and he is honest enough to say that his ad in our paper helps him do so. Other drummers could emulate his example with profit.

COUNTY NEWS NOTES.

To insure insertion ALL correspondence must be in this office by Monday night of each week, and that nearby on Monday morning.

Our correspondents are derelict in duty and we want to say that henceforth they will not receive papers except for the week they have news letters. We are dependent upon them for the news and when they fail to send in their favors they put us to great inconvenience.

J. F. Cecil and wife of Grassy, and Mrs. N. J. Murphy and son of the Murphy fork, were visitors in our village part of last week.

Rush Swango went to Campton Saturday where he received a $25 gun from an old friend at Winchester. Rush says it's a dandy.

Aylette Buckner and Catesby Spears of Paris, were hunting birds in these parts, and were registered at the Swango House last week. They left Sunday for Caney where they boarded the train Monday for home.

W. M. Toliver has sold his farm to Shelby Canoy of Menefee county, and will leave for Louisiana by January 1st. We regret very much to give them up, but our loss is Louisiana's gain.

Several of the people about here went to Campton Monday morning, and among them were W. T. Willis, B. T. Bolin, O. W. McNabb, Porter Clark and several others whose names we did not learn.

Yescrite took dinner with Misses Mary and Corda Brennenman Sunday, and we never enjoyed ourselves better.

We enjoyed Mack Frye's poem on "Thanksgiving." While he was a pupil in the Hazel Green academy he composed poetry for the literary societies.

Mrs. F. N. Day has our thanks for a photograph of her three daughters, Minnie, Pearl and Virginia. When we look on the beautiful face of the absent one, we can hardly realize that the group is broken. We shall keep it in grateful remembrance of the donor.

We attended the mass meeting of citizens and friends of the Hazel Green academy Thursday night, and while business matters were being discussed, one young man and a graduate of this grand institution, said that he was proud that he was a "corn-cracker," born and brought up in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky, and all that he was and ever hoped to be, he owed it to his mother and the Hazel Green academy. Now the point in question, is what kind of a man they have made of him? Well we suppose a very fair specimen, as he only has one bad habit, and that is eating. That school will do to tie to when pupils rise up and call them "blessed."

Dec. 3. SUSIE SUNBEAM.

A very large crowd gathered at the Elkins chapel on Thanksgiving day to hear Dr. Center preach. We were very much disappointed, and regreted to hear of his illness. We hope he will soon be out again.

Most of the schools on Holly closed last Friday. Taylor P. Sewell was our teacher and he taught us a good school. He was always kind to his pupils, and when we parted many eyes were wet with tears, but the wind soon dried them.

ATTENTION, LOT-OWNERS
Sidewalks Must Now Be Built!

There are a number of sidewalks in the town only partly built, or badly built, which must be completed according to specifications on file in the Secretary's book. The matter of building walks or pavements, has been kept quiet, pending the decision in the McNabb case in the Court of Appeals. Now, as it has been shown that the Board of Trustees has sole control of the building of sidewalks, it will be expected that all walks be put in first-class condition at once. There will be no "dilly-dallying" any more. Property owners who have been ordered to build sidewalks may call upon the clerk, C. B. Rose, for specifications.

We claim to be the Lowest Priced Whiskey House. We really sell whiskey as low as $1.10 per gallon, and mind you: distilled whiskey—not a decoction of chemicals—but of course it is new and under proof.

Our "Mountain Dew" 5 year old whiskey is a liquid joy! It is actually produced by honest Tar Heels in the Mountain Section of N. C., by the old time hand process. Every drop is boiled over open furnace wood fires, in old style copper stills, in exactly the same way as distilled by our grandfathers a century ago. First rate whiskey is sold at 50 and 75 per gallon, but is not any better than "Mountain Dew." It is the best in the world and must please every customer or we will buy it back for gold—and the Peoples National Bank of Winston, N. C., will tell you our guarantee is good. To more fully introduce "Mountain Dew," we offer either three or five gallons (in plain sealed box), at the special price of $1.35 per gallon, cash with order. Positively no larger amount shipped. On future shipments we will require the usual price, viz.: $2.50 per gal. Express prepaid to all regular customers. We have branch warehouses in Denver, St. Louis, and Cincinnati, but all orders and remittances (in stamps, cash or by check, etc.) as well as requests for confidential price list must be addressed as follows:

+ THE ARENA +
Under the editorial management of Charles Brodie Patterson, B. O. Flower and John Emery McLean.

THE COMING AGE has been merged into the ARENA, and B. O. Flower, who founded and built up the ARENA, has returned to its editorial department, in which work he is associated with Mr. Charles Brodie Patterson, President of the Alliance School of Applied Metaphysics, author of a number of leading works devoted to the New Thought, and one of the most advanced philosophical thinkers of the times, and Mr. John Emery McLean, who for the last two years has been the working editor of the ARENA, and is now associated with Mr. Patterson in the editorship of MIND. This able editorial staff is assisted by the strongest and most authoritative thinkers in the New World, who from month to month contribute their best thoughts to the review which for many years has occupied a foremost position in the very vanguard of the great authoritative magazines of the English speaking world. It is the determination of the present management to restore the ARENA to its old prestige and make it absolutely indispensable to all wide awake and progressive people. Here is a list of a few contributors to early issues. They are sufficient to indicate the authoritative character of the ARENA under its new editorial management:

Hon. Wayne MacVeagh, LL.D.
Dr. R. Osgood Mason.
Rev. R. Heber Newton, D.D.

A WORD ABOUT "MIND."

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers; they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is overworking in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries. It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble. If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail. Write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Announcement.

In another column of today's issue appears the advertisement of the wonder book of American publications—the acme of the compiler's and printer's art where mechanical excellence, literary perfection and the zenith of accuracy of detail are combined in a volume of over 600 pages that sells at the popular price of 25 cents.

We refer to the 1902 New York World Almanac and Encyclopedia, better known as "The Standard American Annual."

And so it is. It is more to Americans than is Whittaker's to the British.

By special arrangement with the publishers to The World Almanac we offer it in connection with one year's subscription to this paper at $1.00.

The NEW FEATURES enumerated in the advertisement published today are alone worth the price of the book. Besides the features announced there are more than 1,000 other topics discussed and more than 10,000 facts touched upon.

Read the announcement and send in your subscription.

An Evangelist's Story.

"I suffered for years with a bronchial or lung trouble and tried various remedies but did not obtain permanent relief until I commenced using One Minute Cough Cure," writes Rev. James Kirkman, evangelist of Belle River, Ill.: "I have no hesitation in recommending it to all sufferers from maladies of this kind." One Minute Cough Cure affords immediate relief for coughs, colds and all kinds of throat and lung troubles. For croup it is unequalled. Absolutely safe. Very pleasant to take, never fails and is really a favorite with the children. They like it.

$105,000 Paid For Race Horse.

The price of $105,000 paid by G. Faber to R. S. Sevier, for the two-year-old colt, Duke of Westminster, in London, England, recently, is the record price for an untried horse. Celebrated stallions have in a few instances brought more, but the best price ever received heretofore for a two-year-old was $40,000, for King Thomas.

King Thomas never won a race, and there is no certainty that the Duke ever will. The animal was bought upon the assumption that blood would tell and that his performances would equal that of his illustrious ancestors.

Whatever he may do the Duke is not likely to be a money-making venture, but his owner may be rewarded by the glory of owning a wonderfully fleet star of the track. At this moment the horse stands in the position of a lottery ticket: he may fill every hope and he may prove a failure.

A Woman's Awful Peril.

"There is only one chance to save your life and that is through an operation" were the startling words heard by Mrs. L. B. Hunt of Lime Ridge, Wis., from her doctor after he had vainly tried to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. Gall stones had formed and she constantly grew worse. Then she began to use Electric Bitters which wholly cured her. It's a wonderful Stomach, Liver and Kidney remedy. Cures Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite. Try it. Only 50 cts. Guaranteed. For sale by J. T. Day, Hazel Green, or S. S. Combs & Sons, Campton, druggists.

The shooting of George Knox by Tipton Pieratt has created a strong public sentiment at Owensville against the carrying of pistols by boys, many of whom habitually carry some kind of a deadly weapon. A 15-year-old son of John Fitts, near that town, was charged with carrying a pistol in school and was convicted of it by Judge Lynch, who sentenced him to receive 50 lashes with a rawhide. His father was notified and given the option of whipping the boy according to sentence or having some one else do it. The "old man" did it, and did it well.

Burglars forced their way into the postoffice at Lancaster Wednesday night last, made an unsuccessful attempt to dynamite the safe and escaped, leaving behind their tools. They were scared off by the mail carrier, who placed the midnight mail in the office. Bloodhounds were put on the trail.

I was a slave, chained with putrid sore throat and Asthma for 10 years. I despaired of ever being cured. I saw your advertisement for the cure of this tormenting disease, Asthma, and thought you had overspoken yourselves, but resolved to give it a trial. To my astonishment, the trial acted like a charm. Send me a full size bottle."

State College of Kentucky.

The Agricultural and Mechanical (State) College of Kentucky offers the following courses of study, viz: Agricultural, Horticultural, Chemical, Biological, Mathematical, Normal School, Classical, Mechanical Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Civil Engineering, each of which extends over four years and leads to a degree. Post graduate courses of study are also provided, leading each to a master's degree. Each course of study is organized under a separate faculty. The general faculty numbers more than thirty professors and instructors. County Appointees receive tuition, room rent in dormitories, fuel and lights, and if they remain ten months, traveling expenses. The laboratories and museums are large, well equipped, comprehensive and modern. The last Legislature appropriated $30,000 for a college home for young women, and a drill hall and gymnasium has been provided for men. Military tactics and science are fully provided for and required by Congress. Graduates from the several courses of study readily find excellent positions and liberal remuneration. The demand is largely in excess of the ability of the college to supply. Last year the matriculation list was 620. For catalogues, method of obtaining appointments, information regarding courses of study and terms of admission, apply to JAMES K. PATTERSON, Ph. D., LL. D., President. Or to Prof. D. C. FRAZEE, Business Manager, Lexington, Ky. Fall Term begins September 10th, 1901.

Mr. Cooper, Hazel Green, Ky.:

I purchased some of the Vite-Ore of you in the latter part of March, and after taking about a half-pint of the Vite-Ore Elixir my nerves were as steady as when I was 16 years of age, and I am now past 75. For more than a year I had been trying all the patent medicines and nostrums I could hear of to build myself up, but nothing did me any good until I used Vite-Ore, which my wife brought me from your house. After using it a week I went out and did three days' as hard work as I have done in 25 years, and I was not more fatigued than I was 25 years ago over the same work. It is the greatest medicine in the world, and I want everybody in the mountains to know what it did for me so they may try it. Hoping every one who has that tired feeling incident to old age will buy Vite-Ore of you and give it a fair trial. I remain, thankfulty yours for putting me on to this remedy.

JAMES LACY.

I can vouch for every word Mr. Lacy says in the above. I am his wife and bought the medicine of Mr. Cooper for him, though I did not have much faith in it, because we had tried so many things that did no good. I have also used Vite-Ore, and am stronger and in better health than for years, which I attribute to its use.</
